This Syllabus is brought to you for free and open access by ScholarWorks@UNO. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of New Orleans Syllabi by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@UNO. For more information, please contact scholarworks@uno.edu.
Student Learning Outcome: Dynamic Earth is designed to introduce you to the fundamental principles of geology and the subsurface and surface processes that shape our planet. I expect that you will leave this class with a deeper understanding of our planet Earth and answers to questions such as: How are mountain belts formed? How are minerals different from rocks? How old is the Earth and how do we know? How and why are continents moving? It is my hope that you will also develop a deeper appreciation for the role of geoscientists in modern society.

Attendance Policy: Three excused absences will be allowed. No class points will be given if there is any unexcused absence(s).

Test and Final: Midterm Friday Oct. 9, 10AM-10:50AM in GP1000
Final Friday Dec. 11, 10AM-12Noon in GP1000

Criteria for Grading and Grading Standards:
There will be two exams midterm and final, both multiple choice, each worth 100 points. Each of these exams will cover approximately 1/2 of the course material, which will be announced prior to the Examination.
GRADING SCALE: 180-200=A; 160-179=B; 140-159=C; 120-139=D; below 120=F. Students are required to attend classes. Roll will be taken. Announcements will be made during lecture hours and students will be responsible to adhere to those announcements.

No makeup exams are allowed without a valid University approved absence. Check with the University Provost’s office or online to find out what this means. For instance, feeling under the weather and deciding not to show up is not an approved absence even if you call or e-mail, and will result in zero mark, without the opportunity to have a makeup exam. The exam dates listed in the schedule are TENTATIVE, are subject to change and depend on the material covered. ACTUAL exam dates will be finalized as we near those dates (at least a week before the exam). Exams will consist of multiple-choice and/or true/false questions. You will need to bring your own green scantron sheet to the test and number 2 pencils. All material covered in the lecture (including content from in-class discussions, notes that I write on the board, as well as everything discussed during a lecture) is open for test questions. No make-up exams will be considered unless they are pre-approved.
Extra Credit: None. Don’t ask.
Class participation points can be earned by asking smart questions and answering difficult questions.
Student Conduct:
No class points will be given if you make noise, interrupt, read non-class materials (including laptop, books, etc.), come late, do not put off phone, and/or violate class rules. You are encouraged to work and study together for tests. I have found in the past that students who engage in such collaborative learning typically do better. However, this is not allowed while taking a test. DO NOT copy from anyone else. DO NOT even look at what they have written.

Academic Integrity:
Academic integrity is fundamental to the process of learning and evaluating academic performance. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following: cheating, plagiarism, tampering with academic records and examinations, falsifying identity, and being an accessory to acts of academic dishonesty. Refer to the Student Code of Conduct for further information. The Code is available online at http://www.studentaffairs.uno.edu.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:
It is University policy to provide, on a flexible and individualized basis, reasonable accommodations to students who have disabilities that may affect their ability to participate in course activities or to meet course requirements. Students with disabilities should contact the Office of Disability Services as well as their instructors to discuss their individual needs for accommodations. For more information, please go to http://www.ods.uno.edu.

Your expectations of me: You should expect a teacher who cares about your learning and attempts to make the subject interesting, meaningful and challenging. You should expect fair and timely evaluation of assigned work, and feel comfortable enough during class to raise questions without embarrassment and to have questions addressed when relevant.

My expectations of you: I expect students who are eager to learn, who come to college to learn about the world around them and who recognize the value of learning. I expect your full attention during class. I also expect you to respect your colleagues who have come here to learn and not to disrupt them by reading the paper, talking or doing other inappropriate activities during class time. All cell phones and other electronic devices must be turned off before coming into class!! I expect you to be on time to class and not to leave until class is over. I expect you will keep up with the material covered by reading ahead, asking questions and rereading notes.

Withdrawal Policy – Undergraduate only
Students are responsible for initiating action to resign from the University (withdraw from all courses) or from a course on or before dates indicated in the current Important dates calendar. Students who fail to resign by the published final date for such action will be retained on the class rolls even though they may be absent for the remainder of the semester and be graded as if they were in attendance. Failure to attend classes does not constitute a resignation. Check the dates on the Registrar’s website, http://www.registrar.uno.edu. Please consult The Bulletin for charges associated with dropping and adding courses.

Incomplete Policy – Undergraduate only
The grade of I means incomplete and is given for work of passing quality but which, because of circumstances beyond the student’s control, is not complete. The issuance of the grade of I is at the discretion of the faculty member teaching the course. For all graduate and undergraduate students, a grade of I becomes a grade of F if it is not converted before the deadline for adding courses for credit (as printed in the Important Dates Calendar) of the next regular semester including summer semester.

Repeat Policy
When a student is permitted to repeat a course for credit, the last grade earned shall be the one which determines course acceptability for degree credit. A student who has earned a C or better in a course may not repeat that course unless, (1) the catalog description indicates that the course may be repeated for credit, or (2) the student’s Dean gives prior approval for documented extenuating circumstances.

Graduate Policies
Graduate policies often vary from undergraduate policies. To view the applicable policies for graduate students, see the Graduate Student Handbook:

Academic Dishonesty Policy

Safety Awareness Facts and Education
Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender is a Civil Rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, etc. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find the appropriate resources here:

UNO Counseling Services and UNO Cares
UNO offers care and support for students in any type of distress. Counseling Services assist students in addressing mental health concerns through assessment, short-term counseling, and career testing and counseling. Find out more at http://www.uno.edu/counseling-services/. First-year students often have unique concerns, and UNO Cares is designed to address those students succeed. Contact UNO Cares through http://www.uno.edu/fye/uno-cares.aspx.

Emergency Procedures
Sign up for emergency notifications via text and/or email at E2Campus Notification: http://www.uno.edu/ehso/emergency-communications/index.aspx. All emergency and safety procedures are explained at the Emergency Health and Safety Office: http://www.uno.edu/ehso/.

Diversity at UNO
As the most diverse public university in the state, UNO maintains a Diversity Affairs division to support the university’s efforts towards creating an environment of healthy respect, tolerance, and appreciation for the people from all walks of life, and the expression of intellectual point of view and personal lifestyle. The Office of Diversity Affairs promotes these values through a wide range of programming and activities.
