UNO Catalog Description:
Design of control systems using classical frequency response and Laplace transforms techniques; analysis and design of servo-systems using Nyquist, Bode, and root-locus diagrams; design criteria, system stability, frequency, and time response. State variable feedback.

Learning Outcomes: After successfully completing this course, students will be able to:

- Model linear systems through the use of transfer functions.
- Analyze the performance of feedback control systems with time domain specifications such as percent overshoot, settling time and rise time.
- Determine the stability of linear systems.
- Design controllers for linear feedback systems using frequency response and pole-placement techniques.

Homework is due in one week.
Term project including Matlab work will be assigned. Written report and oral presentation required.
Two in-class exams (after Ch. 5 & Ch. 9, respectively) – closed book, one formula-sheet allowed.

The final exam is on Tuesday, December 8, 8:00pm – 10:00pm (conflict time), EN 317

Attendance:

1. Class attendance is required and will be recorded. You must sign in on a sign-in sheet passed around during class. You should contact the instructor in advance if you cannot make a class. Unsatisfactory attendance may lead to 5% decrease in your final score.

2. No make-up tests will be given except for illness or bonafide emergencies. If you cannot make a midterm test due to some excusable reason you must contact the instructor in advance (or ASAP) to see if some arrangement can be made. Otherwise you will receive 0 points on the test.

Student Conduct in Class:

All students are expected to know the UNO Student Code of Conduct and adhere to it in this class (please, refer to http://www.studentaffairs.uno.edu). Among other things, students should come in class on time and have their cell phones turned off. Students are highly encouraged to get actively involved in class and ask questions, but this should not be done in a disruptive manner.

Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity is fundamental to the process of learning and evaluating academic performance. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following: cheating, plagiarism, tampering with academic records and examinations, falsifying identity, and being an accessory to acts of academic dishonesty. Refer to the Student Code of Conduct for further information. The Code is available online at http://www.studentaffairs.uno.edu

Class Communications:

Moodle will be widely used for communication, announcements, posting course notes, assignments, solutions, grades, etc. Students should have course access at http://www.uno.edu/moodle

Accomodations for Students with Special Needs:

It is University policy to provide, on a flexible and individualized basis, reasonable accommodations to students who have disabilities that may affect their ability to participate in course activities or to meet course requirements. Students with disabilities should contact the Office of Disability Services as well as their instructors to discuss their individual needs for accommodations. For more information, please go to http://www.ods.uno.edu.
Academic Dishonesty Policy

Safety Awareness Facts and Education

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender is a Civil Rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, etc. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find the appropriate resources here:

UNO Counseling Services and UNO Cares
UNO offers care and support for students in any type of distress. Counseling Services assist students in addressing mental health concerns through assessment, short-term counseling, and career testing and counseling. Find out more at http://www.uno.edu/counseling-services/. First-year students often have unique concerns, and UNO Cares is designed to address those students succeed. Contact UNO Cares through http://www.uno.edu/tye/uno-cares.aspx

Emergency Procedures

Sign up for emergency notifications via text and/or email at E2Campus Notification: http://www.uno.edu/ehso/emergency-communications/index.aspx. All emergency and safety procedures are explained at the Emergency Health and Safety Office: http://www.uno.edu/ehso/

Diversity at UNO

As the diverse public university in the state, UNO maintains a Diversity Affairs division to support the university's efforts towards creating an environment of healthy respect, tolerance, and appreciation for the people from all walks of life, and the expression of intellectual point of view and personal lifestyle.
