Hi, Brittney. I can confirm that she passed. I have no idea whether she chose to embargo it, but I'm facebook friends with her so I can message her if that's helpful.

That's probably not true...Nancy and I inherited messes of files, so it's very likely gone. If you can confirm she passed, I'll upload this message with her thesis when I post. Do you know if there was an embargo period? It might be moot since the limit is 5 years anyway, but there is an embargo extension option.

Not that I know of... So paperwork on our (the committee's) end was missing?

She did upload a copy in 2015. For whatever reason, it wasn't posted...something that the graduate school does once confirmation of the committee approval is received (not sure why it wasn't posted).

Do you have any documentation I could use? Would she have uploaded the manuscript under a different name?

Hi, Brittney. Robin definitely held her MA defense and passed. So she just never submitted the thesis to the library?

Dr. Steeby,

I am clearing out old Scholarworks records and see that this student's thesis was never posted to the ETD repository, nor is it indicated on their Webstar account.

I see that they graduated in Fall 2015, but I have no records that they completed their requirements.

Can you advise?
