PURPOSE OF THE COURSE AND GENERAL COMMENTS:

The goal of any language study is communicative competence and increased awareness of and respect for cultural diversity. This course is designed to develop and enhance competence in the four skill areas of listening, speaking, reading and writing. Grammatical structures are learned in context; they are immediately used in order to communicate with the entire class or in groups of two or three. Skills are built up through workbook exercises and oral recordings, through short oral and written compositions, and through responding to short video segments.
GENERAL STUDENT OUTCOMES:
1. Proficiency in Reading and Writing the French language
2. Proficiency in Speaking and Listening to the French language
3. Proficiency in French and Francophone History and Culture

REQUIRED MATERIAL:
In order to participate in this course, students must have access to:
- A reliable, fast Internet connection
- A reliable computer equipped with a camera and microphone

TEXTS:
1. Textbook There is a copy of the textbook on permanent reserve at the front desk of the UNO library. Simply show your ID to the librarian. NOTE: This textbook is used for 4 semesters of French at UNO, from FREN 1001-FREN 2002. You are not obligated to purchase the textbook from the UNO bookstore, but make sure, wherever you purchase it, to buy the online book key as well as the book itself.

ATTENDANCE POLICY
The following was adopted by the Foreign language Faculty in September 2002: The class participation grade (in this case 10% of your grade), will be a D or an F, depending on the level of delinquency, if the student has had more than four absences.

REQUIRED WORK:
1. The textbook and online textbook and workbook are required material for this course.
2. Workbook assignments and all lessons, quizzes and tests are to be completed as assigned. No late work will be accepted.
3. Students must check the weekly schedule each week on Moodle and complete activities posted on Moodle as well as exercises listed to be accessed on the Vis-à-Vis site.
4. Students must verify their attendance by checking in with the attendance quiz and completing a short quiz on work covered each week according to the posted due dates.
5. There will be a chapter test on chapters 1, 3 and 4 each, a midterm test covering both chapters 1 and 2, plus a comprehensive final exam on chapters 1-4

MAKE-UPS:
Make-up tests will only be granted with a valid doctor’s excuse or in case of an extreme emergency. It is the student’s responsibility to make arrangements for a make-up test within one day of the original test date. Other than in the case of an extreme, documented emergency, there are no make-up tests. Students must complete tests on their scheduled dates.

ONLINE CLASSROOM CONDUCT:
Courteous behavior and responses are expected at all times. Students are expected to be diligent in consulting the weekly calendars and in completing all work as assigned.
TUTORING SERVICES
Free tutoring may be available in French 1001, 1002, 2001 and 2002 at the UNO Learning Resource Center. Check the web at http://lrc.uno.edu or call 280-7054 for the schedule. Private tutoring may also be available. Contact Dr. Juliana Starr, Chair of Foreign Languages: jstarr1@uno.edu or 280-6657 or 280-6658

MOODLE:
Once you are enrolled in this course, you are also automatically enrolled in Moodle, the UNO course management system linked to the UNO website. You are required to have computer access to the UNO website and to Moodle. If you do not have your username and password to allow you access, contact the HELP DESK in the University Computing Center. Note: E-mail communications between students and instructors may only be done using your UNO e-mail account. If you have a grammar or vocabulary question pertaining to the course, please post it on Discussion Board.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:
The University of New Orleans (UNO) is committed to providing for the needs of enrolled or admitted students who have disabilities under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). In general, University policy calls for reasonable accommodations to be made for students with documented disabilities on an individualized and flexible basis. It is the responsibility of students, however, to seek available assistance at the University and to make their needs known.

For more information, please contact the Office of Disability Services.

VERIFICATION FOR ONLINE STUDENTS

To ensure academic integrity, all students enrolled in distance learning courses at the University of New Orleans may be required to verify their identity when completing exams or other high-stakes assignments. At the discretion of the faculty member teaching the course, verification may include on-campus proctored examinations, off-site or online proctored examinations, or other reasonable measures to ensure student identity. If students cannot attend an on-campus proctored exam, UNO partners with ProctorU, a live, online proctoring service that allows students to complete exams from any location using a computer, webcam, and reliable internet connection. Verification measures for this course include video conference meetings with the instructor.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

Academic integrity is fundamental to the process of learning and evaluating academic performance. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following: cheating, plagiarism, tampering with academic records and examinations, falsifying identity, and being an accessory to acts of academic dishonesty. Refer to the UNO Judicial Code for further information. The Code is available in your student handbook or online at

General Course Schedule:

The following schedule is subject to change.

Please note that a detailed schedule of assignments will be posted on Moodle each week. Students are to consult Moodle for announcements and for the weekly schedules and complete assignments as listed. Exact times for tests and confirmation of test dates will be posted on Moodle at least one week in advance.
