Description: This course is the second segment of Basic French. Unlike Basic French offered on-site, this online class will require students to read, speak and practice most activities by themselves, to listen to audio files and watch video segments on their screen and to create their own virtual communication environment. You will be asked to talk to your screen and to repeat after your instructor. You will occasionally have to record yourself for audio assignments that you will upload to moodle. Online homework assignments and exams will include audio segments.

Objectives: to acquire basic skills in French and to become familiar with cultural aspects of the French speaking world.

Student Learning Outcome:

1. Proficiency in Reading and Writing
2. Proficiency in Speaking and Listening Outcomes
3. Proficiency in History and Culture

You will use the same book you used for FRENCH 1001 (En Avant!) and we will cover the material presented in Chapters 5 to 8. You will also need an access key to the En Avant! Online Workbook (purchased with your textbook at the campus bookstore or online). If you used En Avant! Last semester you do not need to purchase a new access key, only the new course code provided below (see QUIA) will be necessary.

http://books.quia.com/

Once you have purchased the access key (bookstore or link above) you will need the course code below to register. Step by step Quia registration information is provided at the end of this document.

COURSE CODE: PRGH348

Communication: First, let us make sure we are on the same page. You are taking an online class with me this semester. We will probably not have a chance to meet in person but I will treat you with all the respect any student on campus can expect from their professor. In return, do keep in my mind that as your professor I expect a certain level of formality and that all communication should be conducted in a professional manner. For example, it is highly recommended to begin all written communication with “Professor Bourderionnet” and to finish with “thank you” and then sign your name. This will ensure a cordial and professional setting for our class.

All email correspondence to your instructor must be sent from a uno.edu address.

Tests: There will be three chapter tests:

- Chapter 5
- Chapter 6 (the midterm)
- Chapter 7

Then there will be a comprehensive final with a concentration on Chapter 8. (There will be no chapter exam for Chapter 8).

Part of the final exam (taken in a separate test file) will be a 25-questions multiple choice test (Exit Test) which is a departmental requirement and is part of all foreign language classes at UNO. I will post a practice Exit Test to help you prepare for this multiple-choice questionnaire.

Two regular chapter tests (chapter 5 and chapter 7) will count for 30% of the final grade

The Midterm exam will count for 20% of the final grade

The final exam will count for 30%

This will represent 80% of your final grade.
I will generally give you 1 to 2 days to take a test. The dates are indicated in the timetable provided at the end of this document. Once you begin a test you will need to finish it in a certain amount of time (which will be indicated in the test’s general instructions as well as on the test section itself), so please make sure that you are ready to take a particular test section before you access it. Once you’ve launched it, there is no going back! No test grade will be dropped. As you probably already know, accents are a very important part of spelling in French. Before taking the first test, make sure you are familiar with your keyboard’s options so as to avoid losing points over improper or missing accents.

Moodle:

Once you are enrolled in this course, you are also automatically enrolled on Moodle, the UNO course management system linked to the school’s website. You are required to have computer access to the UNO website and to Moodle. For issues regarding your email account go to http://ucc.uno.edu/helpdesk/hdform.cfm

QUIA/CENTRO:

CENTRO is a course management system specific to your textbook that offers online workbook and lab manual with audio, assignment activities, course enrichment through video, and interactive voice board, and online tutoring. You will have weekly assignments to complete in CENTRO. In order to access CENTRO, which is driven by a system called Quia (http://books.quia.com/books/students.html) you must “enroll” by creating an account with your UNO username, plus a password of your choice. You will then enter your “book key” and your course code PRGH348

Your class on the site is listed as Basic French II - French 1002-476. Make sure you select the right section (French 1002-476) as other classes may exist in the same course. Complete instructions are provided at the end of this document. It is important that you are enrolled by Aug. 26, 2015.

How to study:

Since we are not working in a classroom, Moodle will be the space we rely upon to access all course material posted by your instructor, as well as for testing and other resources. You will also make ample use of the various support materials made available online by En Avant! (see CENTRO above)

You will follow the directions found in my bi-weekly postings in order to study the material most effectively. I will direct you towards selected pages and drills to practice with. I will make available some self-designed powerpoint and audio documents to supplement the material presented in your text.
Making use of the audio files I post is very important to succeed in this class. Tests will include audio segments to evaluate your progress with audio comprehension. Centro videos and the additional audio I provide constitute your main exposure to the sounds of the language.

I may also direct you to web resources where you can seek additional presentation and explanation of the material we will cover. Your questions on the material can be submitted via email.

Homework:

Homework for this course consists of activities in the Online Workbook. Once you have registered on Quia with your new (or old) access key using the NEW COURSE CODE: PRGH348 you should get to the following page:

Click on chapter 5 and then go to my tools on top right.
Click on Assignment List

All assigned exercises will have a due date next to them.

You will need to have completed all online homework assignments for a given chapter before you take the exam for the particular chapter. The due date for the assignments coincides with the chapter exam date.

The only assignments that need to be “turned in” are the ones on Quia/Centro! You do not have to “send” them to me; they will automatically show up on my end as soon as you have submitted them. Past the indicated deadline for each set of assignments you will not be able to submit any homework for that Chapter. These exercises count for 25% of your final grade. The activities in your textbook, in the powerpoints I post are for practice only and don’t need to be turned in to me. They are the equivalent of exercises and drills usually done in the classroom.

PLEASE NOTE THAT A GRADE OF 0 ON QUIA ASSIGNMENTS FOR THE SEMESTER WILL AUTOMATICALLY MEAN FAILING THE COURSE. ‘OPTING OUT’ OF THIS PART OF THE COURSE IS NOT PERMITTED.

Performance evaluation:

Three chapter tests: 50%
Comprehensive Final exam: 30%
iLrn/Quia online workbook: 20%

Grading scale:

- 90-100% = A
- 80 - 89% = B
- 70 - 79% = C
- 60 - 69% = D
- 59% - = F

Academic integrity:

Academic integrity is fundamental to the process of learning and evaluating academic performance. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following: cheating, plagiarism, tampering with academic records and examinations, falsifying identity, and being an accessory to acts of academic dishonesty. Refer to the Student Code of Conduct for further information. The Code is available online at http://www.studentaffairs.uno.edu.

To ensure academic integrity, all students enrolled in distance learning courses at the University of New Orleans may be required to participate in additional student identification procedures. At the discretion of the faculty member teaching the course, these measures may include on-campus proctored examinations, off-site or online proctored examinations, or other reasonable measures to ensure student identity. Authentication measures for this course are identified below and any fees associated are the responsibility of the student.

For French 1002-476, the midterm and final exams are administered on-site or must be proctored at an accepted institution (fees and arrangements are the responsibility of the student).

The university of New Orleans partners with Proctor U, a live, online proctoring service that allows students to complete exams from any location using a computer, webcam, and a reliable internet connection.

Tutoring services:
Free tutoring maybe available for French 1002 at the UNO Learning Resource Center. Check the web at http://lrc.uno.edu or call 280-7054 for the schedule. Appointments are recommended, but not required. Private tutoring may also be available. Contact the Department of Foreign Languages at 280-6657 or 280-6658.

The University of New Orleans (UNO) is committed to providing for the needs of enrolled or admitted students who have disabilities under section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (A.D.A). In general, University policy calls for reasonable accommodations to be made for students with documented disabilities on an individualized and flexible basis. It is the responsibility of students, however, to seek available assistance at the University and to make their needs known.

Timetable / Calendrier

This schedule provides a week by week progression of our online class.
I will post two lessons per week on Mondays and Wednesdays. I may post additional material on any given day (especially before exams). You will always be notified of any new posting via email (through Moodle).

The exam dates correspond to timed-online exams that you will have to take within 24 to 48 hours. When students choose to take their exams on the last day of the exam availability period they should be aware that they are increasing chances of falling behind on the material already available for the following chapter.

Course Program:

Assignments, pages to study, exercises will be posted on a bi-weekly basis, on Moodle via the “Announcement” page. Announcements will be forwarded via uno email. Students enrolled in this course should read their uno email daily and visit the course’s moodle page regularly to access course material, assignments and tests.

This is a tentative schedule, instructor retains the right to make adjustments as needed. Test dates indicated here are subject to change (except for final). Students are responsible for keeping up with possible program changes as they become available via Moodle.

Withdrawal Policy – Undergraduate only
Students are responsible for initiating action to resign from the University (withdraw from all courses) or from a course on or before dates indicated in the current Important dates calendar. Students who fail to resign by the published final date for such action will be retained on the class rolls even though they may be absent for the remainder of the semester and be graded as if they were in attendance. Failure to attend classes does not constitute a resignation. Check the dates on the Registrar’s website, http://www.registrar.uno.edu. Please consult The Bulletin for charges associated with dropping and adding courses.

Incomplete Policy – Undergraduate only
The grade of I means incomplete and is given for work of passing quality but which, because of circumstances beyond the student’s control, is not complete. The issuance of the grade of I is at the discretion of the faculty member teaching the course. For all graduate and undergraduate students, a grade of I becomes a grade of F if it is not converted before the deadline for adding courses for credit (as printed in the Important Dates Calendar) of the next regular semester including summer semester.

Repeat Policy
When a student is permitted to repeat a course for credit, the last grade earned shall be the one which determines course acceptability for degree credit. A student who has earned a C or better in a course may not repeat that course unless, (1) the catalog description indicates that the course may be repeated for credit, or (2) the student’s Dean gives prior approval for documented extenuating circumstances.
