COURSE DESCRIPTION & OBJECTIVES

This course is designed to introduce students to the concepts and practice of modern neighborhood planning. The primary focus will be on urban neighborhoods with a special focus on New Orleans, LA. Through required readings and discussion, this course will:

- Increase student’s knowledge and understanding of neighborhoods;
- Expose students to current neighborhood planning activities;
- Provide students with an opportunity to learn more about their own neighborhoods;
- Describe the neighborhood planning process, principles and goals;
- Discuss the challenges, constraints and opportunities in neighborhood planning through discussion board reflection, synchronous class discussions and through analysis provided in a final project report.

The course will cover such topics as:

- the definition and importance of neighborhoods;
- the relationship between neighborhood and community;
- the difference between urban planning and neighborhood planning;
- the neighborhood planning process;
- community asset mapping;
- using technology to evaluate neighborhood conditions;
- community capacity building for implementing a neighborhood plan;
- neighborhood planning activities in New Orleans today.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Each student in this course is expected to abide by the University Of New Orleans Code Of Academic Integrity. Although students should work together labs, in particular asking specific technical questions, any work submitted by a student in this course for academic credit will be the student’s own work. Please cite all work that you rely on to write your papers. Direct quotations of other work should be enclosed with quotation marks, with a citation afterward that contains the page number of the work where available. When you rely substantially on another person’s work without quoting from it directly, please use in-text citations at the end of an appropriate section. Failure to provide complete and proper citations may constitute plagiarism, which violates the University Of New Orleans Code Of Academic Integrity. If detected, plagiarism may result in a failing grade for the course. All students must acknowledge receipt and understanding of the course student honesty policy.

ACADEMIC ACCOMODATION

In accordance with the University of New Orleans policy and equal access laws, please discuss appropriate academic accommodations that may be required for students with disabilities. Requests for academic accommodations are to be made during the first three weeks of the semester, except for unusual circumstances, so arrangements can be made.

COURSE INCOMPLETE

It is the policy of this Professor to not approve any course incompletes. The Professor will work closely with the students to identify ways to complete work with advance notice of incomplete or no work assignments submitted. However, due to illness or demonstrated emergency and with sound reason and documented evidence, the final or any assignments due on the last week of the term can be extended up to 30 days past the course. Students unable for similar reasons to complete these assignments (including the final project), or whose extenuating circumstances do not allow them to finish the assignments within a 30-day extension period, may request to be given an "I" (Incomplete) for that grading period. Students must submit the request for the incomplete, with appropriate documentation, through the procedure determined by the Department. Before it is submitted to the Department, the instructor must review and sign the request for the incomplete indicating whether the Incomplete was approved or denied. For a student to receive an incomplete, he or she must be passing the course and must have completed a significant portion of the course as determined by the instructor. If the student does not complete the required work in the time specified, the outstanding work will receive an 'F' and will be calculated in with the earned-to-date grade.

EMAIL & CLASS COMMUNICATIONS

The UNO email account is required to receive communications for this class. There will be additional 'Class Notes' via email, responses to general course questions on the Discussion Board. If you wish to ask me a personal question, feel free to email me: mmthomp1@uno.edu. All course and content-related questions must be posted on the discussion board. Other students may benefit from your questions and my responses.
SEXUAL HARRASSMENT

Purpose: To reaffirm the University’s policy against sexual harassment in any and all areas of the University environment. Harassment on the basis of sex is a violation of Section 703 of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Additionally, sexual harassment subverts the mission of the University. It is necessary, therefore, to prohibit such behavior to protect both the individuals involved and the University.

General Policy: Sexual harassment is unacceptable behavior and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment is a violation of state and federal law. Sexual harassment has a negative impact on the functioning of the University. Consequently, all members of the University community must be sensitive to the possibility of sexual harassment whether intended or inadvertent. Individuals must recognize this potential and act to prevent it. When sexual harassment has occurred, the University shall take effective and expeditious action.

Individuals in supervisory positions must be aware of their role as agents of the University and shall make every effort to censure such behavior when it occurs. Any member of the University community who is informed of a possible incident of sexual harassment shall make the informer aware of the existence of the University’s policy and procedures.

All members of the University community must learn to recognize sexual harassment when it occurs and should be aware of the policy and procedures which govern the handling of allegations of sexual harassment fairly and expeditiously. Since those who may be subjected to sexual harassment may experience disruption in their work or academic environment and may fear retaliation and public notoriety, investigative procedures must protect their privacy as much as possible.

The University’s Sexual Harassment Policy is available online via the UNO webpage (www.uno.edu).

DISCRIMINATION

The University of New Orleans is a multicultural community composed of diverse students, faculty, and staff. A fundamental principle of the University of New Orleans is that there be an environment of mutual tolerance and respect, which is free of hostility toward, discrimination against, or harassment of any person based on race, color, religion, sex, disability, national origin, age, sexual orientation, marital or veteran status, or any other status protected by law. Every member of the university community is held strictly accountable for his or her behavior with regard to this standard. The Policy is available online via the UNO webpage (www.uno.edu).
